Students who are interested in experiencing different cultures are invited to discover study abroad opportunities at the Study Abroad Fair Feb. 7 on the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh campus.

The Study Abroad Fair, hosted by the UW Oshkosh Office of International Education, will be held in Reeve Memorial Union Ballroom from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and will offer information on numerous study destinations and opportunities across the globe.

While at the fair, students will have the opportunity to meet faculty who lead programs, other students who have studied abroad and people who have programs in different parts of the world. Interested students can learn more about study abroad options including work, internships, teaching and volunteering in a different country. Information about scholarships, grants and financial aid will also be available at the fair. Through UW Oshkosh, students can choose from more than 80 programs, may of which are taught in English.

Questions? Stop by the Study Abroad Fair or the Office of International Education, which is located in Dempsey 202.
