

Be part of your College's future!

Your name could be included on the College of Business Alumni Association's student project room

Rendering of the University's new academic building.

After nearly 40 years in Clow, the College will have a new academic home facing the river off of High Street. It will be a physical and social nerve center for the College, alumni and the community. Your financial contribution to the Alumni Association's student project room is an investment in our future. Alumni will be recognized at different naming levels. See inside for details.
