Dear Yearbook Adviser,

The timing is right for a change. So for the 2008 NEWSPA yearbook competition, we've found a new judge — a graphic artist by trade — who will look at your entries with a fresh eye and new insight.

So how do you enter? It's easy. Just follow the guideline below. If you have questions, contact Judy Schultz at 920-424-1042 or schultza@uwosh.edu.

Deadlines:	June 30, 2008—Spring Yearbooks September 30, 2008—Fall Yearbooks
Entry Form and Fees:	The yearbook competition rules and entry form are listed on the Web site at http://www.uwosh.edu/journalism/newspa. The entry fees are $50 for the publication and $10 for each division (general, design and photo). The fees should be sent along with the yearbook and completed entry forms.
Member school list:	The Spring 2008 yearbook should be a 2007-2008 member and the Fall 2008 yearbook should be a 2008-2009 member. Non-member schools will need to pay the membership dues of $55 plus the entry fee(s) before their book and/or other entries can be evaluated. An updated membership list is posted on the Web site at http://www.uwosh.edu/journalism/newspa/membership.php.
Critique Booklets:	After the yearbooks are judged, the critique booklets will be sent to the schools. The yearbooks will be returned at the April 22, 2009 spring conference.
Blue Ribbons:	Blue ribbons are presented to the best yearbooks for small and large schools.
Additional Awards:	In addition to blue ribbon winners, first through third place certificates are given to individual winners.

Sincerely,

Barb Benish
