

Eric Breindel Collegiate Journalism Award

$10,000 plus paid internship at Fox News Channel,
New York Post or The Wall Street Journal

The Object:

Work which best reflects the spirit that animated the writings of Eric Breindel: Love of country and its democratic institutions as well as the act of bearing witness to the evils of totalitarianism.

Eligibility:

Must be a student at an accredited institution in the United States at the time the pieces were written. Entries must have been published in the 2009–2010 academic year.

Award:

One prize of $10,000, plus a paid internship at either Fox News Channel, The Wall Street Journal, or The New York Post. Residential housing will be provided for the winner for the duration of the internship position, if necessary. Winner will be decided by a panel of judges appointed by the Eric Breindel Memorial Foundation.

Deadline:

Postmarked Friday, April 23, 2010. Winner will be announced in June 2010.

Submissions:

No more than 2 editorials, columns or news stories per person. Articles specifically produced for and published in a newspaper, magazine or website will be accepted. Internet exclusive material (articles published online, but not in a corresponding print source of the same name) may be submitted if the site is accredited by a college or university at the time of the submission's postmark. If a team was involved in the writings, only one name should appear on the entry form. There is only one category. There can be more than one participant from a publication. "Letters to the Editor" are not eligible.

Submission Requirements:

Two copies should be submitted. (1) The original article with the name and date of the publication, or a photocopy of such. (2) The second copy must be submitted on 8 x 11 white paper, which can be taken directly from your computer or typewriter. Complete entries require an original and photocopy or online version of the article as it appeared along with the entry form.

Mail:

Mail submissions with entry form to:
