Martin Luther King Junior

By Ashlee Gene Krull

To the tune of "Itsy Bitsy Spider"

Martin Luther King Junior was born in '28

When he saw injustice no one could tell him to wait

This powerful man had a very large dream

All of his words and actions followed just one theme

He lead his people to Washington in 1963

Crying out for all to be set free

He signed the Bill of Civil Rights in 1964

Declaring the separation of blacks and whites no more

Mr. King was assassinated in 1968

But when this great man died so did hate

He cried out for freedom and equality

And now we can all live together in peace you and me.

A Quarter

to the tune of Oh my darling

by: Alissa Youngbauer

Oh a quarter, oh a quarter it is worth 25 cents it is shiny, it's not tiny it will sink because it's dense

Washington's face is on a quarter a quarter is the third largest coin it is rough around the edges it's a silver sparkly coin.

The Writing Process

by Joanna Malliet

to the tune of "I'm a Little Teapot"

The first step when writing is to brainstorm.

Here are my ideas, here is what I've formed.

Then I add more details, check how I spell.

Now I'm finished and ready to tell.

You start your writing with a prewrite.

Next comes the drafting, that shows you're bright.

Then you revise your paper and edit too.

It's time to show what you can do.

Parts of the Plant

by Bryon Prey

to the tune of Itsy Bitsy Spider

The basic part of most plants are roots, stems, and leaves

Then comes flowers, fruits, and seeds.

Roots provide support by anchoring the plant

And the stems carry water to where the roots can't.

The leaves have openings to let air in and out.

This helps the leaves to fight off drought.

Flowers are important in making the seeds

And this is only one of the flowers many deeds.

Title: The Presidents

To the tune of: Row, Row, Row your boat
By: Jennifer Miller

George, George Washington
Was our first president He built a house named Mount Vernon That's where his time was spent.

John, John Adams
Was next to come along
He served two terms as president He made our country strong.

Nouns, Adjectives, Verbs

by Marisa Lee
to the tune of "I'm a Little Teapot"

A noun is a person, place, or thing.
An adjective describes most everything.
A verb is an action word like "sting".
We learn grammar as we sing.

Now we've learned a little, let's learn more.
Verbs have three tenses, not two, not four.
Present, past and future, please don't snore.
Action verbs are not a bore!

"Don't Forget to Buckle Up"

by Trisha Becker to the tune of "Do You Know the Muffin Man"

Oh, don't forget to buckle up,
To buckle up, to buckle up,
Oh, don't forget to buckle up,
Before you drive away.

Oh, don't forget to look both ways,
To look both ways, to look both ways,
Oh, don't forget to look both ways,
Before you cross the street.

Components of a Year

by Erica Murphy to the tune of "She'll Be Comin' Round The Mountain"

There are 12 months in just one year
There are 52 weeks in just one year
There are 365 days
There are 365 days
There are 365 days in just one year

There are 7 days in just one week
There are 168 hours in just one week
There are 10,080 minutes
There are 10,080 minutes
There are 10,080 minutes in just one week

Wisconsin Facts

by Tara Greely
to the tune of "Itsy Bitsy Spider"

Wisconsin's known for cheeze in the U.S.A Go to Noah's Ark in the end of May I'm going to a Packer game, I can hardly wait
And, we became a state in 1848

Wisconsin's knick name is the badger state.
We enjoy our cheeze all across the state.
We produce more milk than any other state.
So, come visit this state because Wisconsin's great.

Conflict Resolution

to the tune of "Frere Jacques" Jenny Marsh

Verse 1

Work things out, Work things out Don't get mad, Don't get mad First control your temper, First control your temper
Cool yourself off, Cool yourself off

Verse 2

Identify the problem, Identify the problem
Share your feelings, Share your feelings Find a solution, Find a solution
Then be friends, Then be friends

The Solar System

by, Megan Bergmann to the tune of "Twinkle, Twinkle"

Planets, planets, moons and stars
Mercury, Venus, Earth and Mars Jupiter and Saturn in a line Uranus, Neptune and Pluto make nine Planets, planets circle 'round
There are nine that have been found

Planets, planets moons and stars
The sun's the closest star by far Mercury's the closest to the sun Jupiter's the most giant one
Planets, planets, moons and stars
Earth is the one we call ours

The 30th State - Wisconsin

Katie Henrichs
To the tune of "Itsy Bitsy Spider"

It was May 29th, in 1848
Wisconsin was the 30th one to be a state Milk, chees, and butter are Wisconsin's specialties It'll be known as the "Badger State" for all of history.

It's flower is the Violet, the Maple is it's tree.

And don't forget the Robin in Spring time you will see.

Forward is the motto, Wisconsinites say real proud,

And you'll always hear them singing
"On Wisconsin" very loud.

12 Months

By Jill Ryddner
To the tune of "London Bridges falling down"

There are 12 months in a year
In a year, in a year
There are 12 months in a year
Let,s name them all!

January, February
March, April, May; June, July August
September, October, November, December
We have named them all!

Classroom Manners

by Kristin Schumacher
to the tune of "Frere Jacques"

Please and thank you, Please and thank you Excuse me, Excuse me
Are good classroom manners, are good
classroom manners
For you and me, For you and me

2nd Verse

Are you sharing, Are you sharing Taking turns, Taking turns
Are good classroom manners, Are good
classroom manners
For you and me, For you and me

The Multiplication Song

by Jenny Anderson
to the tune of "The Wheels on the Bus"

Two times two is always four Always four, always four
Two times two is always four Let's try just one more

Three times three equals nine Equals nine, equals nine
Three times three equals nine
Let's try one more time

The Solar System

by Erin Tipler to the tune of "The Farmer and the Dell"

Up in the sky at night,
I see objects in flight.
Nine planets revolve around the sun that is so bright.

From Mercury that's hot
To Pluto that is not,
All the planets are unique
And have a special spot.

Going to the moon

by Amy Bishop to the tune of "The Itsy Bitsy Spider"

It was July 20th, the year 1969 When Neil, Buzz and Michael made a mark in time
Out of the shuttle Neil did walk
He was the first on the moon and people did talk.

It was one small step for man, adn one giant leap for mankind And walking on the moon, really blows your mind
Back in the shuttle they began to fly As they looked out the window, they waved good-bye.

Seasons

by Audra Wentland
to the tune of "The Wheels on the Bus"

The leaves on the trees come falling
down
Red and orange, yellow and brown
The leaves on the trees come falling
down
All autumn long

The snow on the ground goes drifting
by
From way up high, high in the sky
The snow on the ground goes drifting
by
All winter long

Vowels

by Luke Leitner to the tune of "Bingo"

There are five letters that are always vowels and I will tell them to you.

A - E - I - O - U.

A - E - I - O - U.

A - E - I - O - U, and y is sometimes too.

Consonants are great for making words, but words need vowels too

A - E - I - O - U.

A - E - I - O - U.

A - E - I - O - U, vowels help make words too.

In Math today we'll count by 2's That's the number we will choose, 2,4,6,8,10, and 12
Who can sing it by themselves?

Now it's time to count by 5's And we'll keep the song alive with a 5, 10, 15, 20, 25
Who will give the 5's a try?

To the tune of Row, Row, Row Your Boat

Meredith Danforth

Its Independence Day,
The date it the fourth of July.
The year was seventeen-seventy-six,
Today the flag flies high.

Today the Declaration was signed,
It set America free.
And Great Britain signed it too,
We are our own country.

The big brown bear went into his den, Inside there he fell asleep again.
When he woke up he used his big black snout,
To sniff around so he could eat a big fat trout.

The big brown bear has soft fuzzy fur, therefore in the winter he doesn't say burr.
When the bear has babies they are called cubs, they lick themselves clean for bath time they don't go in the tub.
