three days of empowerment & inspiration for young women in grades 9-12

J U L Y 2 5 - 2 7 , 2 0 1 0

Ever wonder what it's like to pilot a jet aircraft, work on the international space station, pilot a private aircraft for a corporate executive, or for yourself? EAA's Women Soar You Soar is the ideal place for high school girls to find out. Now in its sixth year, this unique program introduces 100 girls to more than 20 women, from engineers to fighter pilots, working in a variety of aviation and aerospace fields. It's a three-day event, July 25-27, 2010, filled with career exploration, discovery, inspiration, and fun. Activities for this year include: flight simulation, workshops, career exploration, and mentor sessions.

The journey of a million miles begins with the first step. Take YOUR first step today by finding out more about Women Soar You Soar!
