 - Ricky Johnson and/or Kevin Boldt from Information Technology campus green initiatives, e portfolio, limit now 10,000 per year would like to save 15% but looking over a five year 2000 per year and that would affect 1000 students, 750 per semester it would affect 4670 but if the limit is 2000 would affect 1163 students, faculty staff 500 pages at 11%. Religious Studies: How are you working with faculty that have assigned something and asked to bring it to class but you have to print 30 pages and bring it to class, are you informing them of the limits? Answer: yes faculty and staff will be informed and how this will affect students, Spanish club: Will this effect faculty and staff to print off exams? Answer: no they cannot in labs. College Republicans, What if students cannot read very well off of devices, will there will exceptions? Yes and you really do need a page will there be exceptions made, will be able to make changes as we go type thing right now, evaluate what you have printed 2,000 enforced but there probably will be exceptions and there will be the ability to add more to your account. USRH, how will affect students in residence hall? Answer: it goes to the same account, average 990 per printing extreme that are printing in the 10,000. CARE: when will this go into effect? Answer: we would like to get approval from student organizations first and hopefully in the next fall. The fee for what you are over printing goes to your student account and you will not be able to register. Pagan student alliance: How will this effect if something happens and I have to print multiple times? Answer: if not printing correctly, print quality of the page anyone in the library can change back to your account, and there is print preview to check before you print. Wildlife Conservation: noticed not using recycled paper, why not? Answer: we do use 30% but the 100% had been doing damage to the printers and the quality had been poor. We did send the paper to HP to find out what we could do. Julie: SLIC printer is used by students for their club/orgs and they use their Titan card. Answer: they would have to use copy this as that computer lab is for student accounts. English club: If spent $171,000 and that is lowered by the limits, where will the savings go? Will go back to student tech fees and will free up money for additional proposals. College republicans: How many would be affected with a printing limit of $5,000. Answer: only 43. Hackbarth: This will be discussed at senate tomorrow, I can see that there is interest and we will probably add an ad hoc committee to discuss the printing limits, please see Sarah if you are interested in being on this committee. GSA: How can you check the number of copies that you have used? Answer: after you swipe will show you how many left and how much it will cost you. Pagan Student Association: If this is implemented is it experimental? It is more than experimental but it is flexible and we do want to make sure there is savings.
