Existing Intranet Sites on Campus

- College of Business: www.business.uwosh.edu/intranet
- COEHS: www.uwosh.edu/coehs/intranet
- Computer Science: www.uwosh.edu/computer_science/intranet
- History: www.uwosh.edu/history/intranet
- etc.

Where should internal content live?

- 3 choices:
 - “common intranet” – for all campus users: www.uwosh.edu/intranet
 - college intranets – login required
 - department/unit intranets – login required

Common Intranet

This common intranet site will be a campus-wide resource for current faculty, staff, and students. It will be available initially from campus computers only, and will contain links to resources that are relevant to current members of the campus community.

Links to resources that are useful only to specific areas of campus or to specific user groups should be located on different intranet sites; more on this later.

Information that is meant for external audiences will reside elsewhere, such as on the main campus web site.

Next Steps

- Where does internal content belong: the common intranet, college intranets, department/unit intranets?
- What should be on the common intranet?
- Form an intranet “bridge group” that will recommend structure & processes for intranet “management group”
- Form the management group
