Position: Executive Director – Child and Family Services Organization

Location: Columbus, Ohio

Draft 5.1 MK. 1.24.11

Kohls Group consulting is seeking an executive director for the Columbus, Ohio site of our client Starr Commonwealth, an internationally recognized leader in transformational programs for children, families, schools and communities.

The Executive Director will be expected to organize and direct quality programs to ensure that all services are strength-based, fiscally viable, and promote community wellness. In addition, this key position will provide leadership for the development of relationships and implementation of cooperative strategies affecting public policy, governmental affairs, nonprofit agency relations, networking and ongoing business development in Ohio.

Starr Commonwealth is seeking a professional who will actively participate in the development of the Columbus administrative and executive teams and contribute to the strategic and business goals of Ohio operations through close interaction with campus directors, the Senior Vice President of Programs, and other key inter-organizational leadership structures.

Starr Commonwealth strongly values the concept and practice of servant-leadership in promoting positive working environments. The skills and attributes required of the executive director position include those of a mission driven relationship builder and listener who values teamwork, sets high standards for self and others, and can interpret and understand our client's and customer's needs.

The ideal candidate should have a masters degree in a relevant field and considerable experience in leadership and planning in non profit human services operations, and a demonstrated ability to interact effectively with executive and senior management. He or she will also have and maintain a strong working knowledge of and appreciation for networking and the development and public relations functions necessary to meet the organizations goals. .

Founded in 1913, Starr's treatment philosophy is rooted in seeing something good in every child, which serves as the guiding principle in its strength-based approach. Starr offers a full spectrum of community-based early intervention and prevention services along with specialized residential programs.

The Columbus site became part of Starr Commonwealth when the Hannah Neil Center was acquired by Starr Commonwealth in 1978. Starr Columbus has carried forward Hannah Neil's mission making it one of Ohio's oldest child caring organizations with over 150 years of continuous service to children and families.

Excellent benefits package and equal opportunity employer.
