OrgSync helps connect clubs and organizations with students

by Contributor - Monday, March 15, 2010

http://www.uwosh.edu/today/2567/orgsync-helps-connect-clubs-and-organizations-with-students/

The University of Wisconsin Oshkosh is implementing OrgSync, an online database for student clubs and organizations.

UW Oshkosh’s 13,100 students and 150 student organizations will be able to utilize OrgSync’s advanced organizational management and communication tools. Students will have the ability to connect with student leaders, view an online calendar of events, share documents electronically, give feedback through interactive polls, surveys, and much more. OrgSync also supports UW Oshkosh’s sustainability goals by giving campus administrators the ability to post online forms, conduct assessment and manage organization rosters without using paper.

“OrgSync provides efficiency and opens communication with other organizations on campus” said Sue Jaeke, office manager for the Oshkosh Student Organization. “It adapts to the user, which makes it fun and easy to use.”

UW Oshkosh is one of five UW System schools to implement Orgsync within the last year.