

Troy Reeve's July 31, 2009 Email Message

First, thanks for your attendance and your comments on Friday. Here's what I've promised:

1. The books I mentioned/recommend:

- A Field Notebook for Oral History (soon to be in 5th edition)
- Doing Oral History, 2nd Edition
- Oral History Manual (soon to be in 2nd edition)

2. Digital audio recorders we use/Places we buy them/Websites that feature discussion/review about them

- Marantz 620/661/671 or ZoomH2 recorder
- Sweetwater Sound <http://www.sweetwater.com/>
- Full Compass <http://www.fullcompass.com/>
- Vermont Folklife Center's Guide to Audio Recording Equipment http://www.vermontfolklifecenter.org/archive/res_audioequip.htm
- Oral History Association: www.oralhistory.org which now has a beefed up section about digital recording

3. Need a place to digitize analog cassettes or video cassettes (There are probably several places in Madison, Milwaukee, and/or Chicago)

- Audio: Abella Audio Productions Inc
2302 W Badger Rd, Madison, WI 53713-2322
Contact Phone: (608) 273-4451
URL (web address): www.abellaaudio.com
- Video: Holder Printworks
Website: www.holderprintworks.com
Email: <mailto:info@holderprintworks.com>
Tel: (608) 576-6416

Or, contact Troy.

4. The attachments: (found in folder containing Troy Reeves' resources.)

1. Personal Data Record (bio form)
2. Legal Release forms (samples from us and Idaho)
3. Index/Summary (sample from one of our interviews)
4. Index/Summary template (to print off and use to take notes during recording session)
5. Top 10 list (UW--Madison Oral History Program)
6. What Does Done Like & Project Planning Sheet (Project Planning)
7. Some Thoughts on Oral History
8. So, Now What Do I Do?

5. My last reminder: if you need anything oral history-related or related to history of UW--Madison, let me know. I'll help you the best I can or point you to someone who can assist you better or faster.

Troy
