

RADIO TV FILM

Media production • Broadcasting techniques • Content creation

The Radio TV Film (RTF) program is regionally and nationally recognized for training Titans in media production and critical media analysis. Students have opportunities to produce published or broadcast media content through their coursework, internships and student organizations.

MAJOR FACTS

- Certificates available in sports media, digital content creation, film/TV production and media literacy
- The only program in Wisconsin with a dedicated Foley stage and 7.1 surround sound mixing room
- The only professionally run broadcast-style curriculum in the state

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

Students start with hands-on experience on day one with access to WRST-FM, Titan TV and Titan Film Society. In classwork and through organizations, students use top-tier production facilities and industry-standard equipment.

FEATURED EMPLOYERS

CLASSES

- Studio Production
- Documentary Production
- Narrative Production
- Art of Foley
- Cinematography
- Sports Broadcasting

SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS ARE:

- Creative and innovative
- Focused on the media industry
- Driven by stories

COMMON JOB TITLES

- Production Specialist
- News Editor
- Broadcaster
- Cinematographer

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

90.3 WRST-FM

Student-run radio station that broadcasts and streams sports, news and alternative music for national listeners.

Titan TV

Student-run television station that produces news, sports and original content for the campus and community.

UW-Oshkosh Film Society

A student organization dedicated to independent filmmaking, guiding students through the entire production process.

Learn more about majors and career opportunities.